(NPC Standing up for today's and tomorrow's pensioners)

In 2015, the Government passed responsibility for the free TV licence for the over-75s to the BBC, and said they would cease to fund it from 2020. The BBC has launched a consultation process, which makes it clear that they do not wish to continue the current arrangement. The consultation ends on 12th February 2019.

We must fight this proposal to end the current arrangement, and ask for responsibility for this vital welfare benefit for over-75s to be taken back under government control.

We appeal to all ages: help us to make our voices heard!
